The sun rises over the ridge of the local snowcapped peaks of Forumsville, USA, casting its effulgent rays over the city. Its citizens stir, preparing for their days and going about their business. But while its run-of-the-mill civilians throng the streets, heroes take to the rooftops.

Oh, wait. Lemme fill you in. Forumsville is famous for its animal-themed heroes, known as Miraculous holders, due to having an abundance of them— on the Internet, these heroes are sometimes referred to by the slang word 'furries'. Truly a concrete jungle, am I right...? No? Okay.

Back to Forumsville. I'm supposing you expect these heroes to be responsible, wise adults, with jaw-dropping powers and thrilling lives behind the mask? That they fly over the city skyline, ascending heavenward and breaching clouds as they soar Superman-style to search the streets for evil?

... the opposite is true. Most of these heroes are high-schoolers, as a matter of fact, and due to being animal-based, most of them don't have the flashiest powers. Heck, the heroes can't even fly, because wings would cause them to fall backwards, and capes are just ridiculous at times when they're just to billow in the wind.

So, why are these Miraculous holders patrolling the city so much? Two words: Partridge Bumblebee. Partridge Bumblebee is the city's enigmatic cryptid of a villain; nobody has ever seen him, assuming Partridge Bumblebee is male, like many of the reports of the formerly akumatized say; what's an akuma, you might be asking? Akumas are villains who are corrupted by yellow bumblebees created by Partridge Bumblebee which, funnily enough, are also called akumas. That's totally not confusing at all.

However, there's hope! Some heroes can purify akumas by breaking the object in which the akuma butterflies enter— usually some sort of Special Power or weapon has to be used in order to accomplish this, but this isn't always the case. Despite his efforts, Partridge Bumblebee typically loses.

But, of course, there are Miraculous holders who side with Partridge Bumblebee. We call them 'villains', because... well, they're the anti-heroes. What else would we call them, Partridge Bumblebee's Army? Vote PB for President 2020? Okay, that was some awkward humor, but back to the villain discussion. For one reason or another, villains side with Partridge Bumblebee— but they can reform, I guess. Just, y'know, at the expense of being ridiculed by the city and the myriad of online blogs dedicated to Miraculous holders.

Wait a minute— who are you? Also hey uh yeah put 'OwO' in Other if you've read this far

1. Under no circumstances are your characters allowed to have wings of any sort. Wings are obviously the most evil thing on the planet. Okay, but seriously, no wings. Gliding with a cape is allowed, though.
2. Please, try to keep edge and angst to a minimum. A good idea would be containing it to their backstory and some character arcs.
3. Each forumer is allowed to have up to four characters.
4. Repeats of animals are allowed, but if need be, the mod team will restrict certain animals; think of a 'blacklist' of sorts.

5. Tying in with the rule above, don't mini-mod. If you want to offer input to someone, regardless of your status in the FWRP, that's fine— but don't go around acting like you can accept forms and whatnot.
6. Only @Cleaver, @Ghost, @Hawk, and @Myself (Necromancer) can accept forms at the moment. If there is any change, an announcement thread will be released.
7. Hate the character, not the person.
8. If you've read this far, add "what's" to Other.
9. Shipping is allowed, including LGBTQ+ ships.
10. If you want to have your character(s) discover the identity of someone else's character, discuss it with the person beforehand.
11. Powers must relate to the animal. Special Powers can relate to the abilities of the animal and/or mythology surrounding the animal. Furthermore, costumes have to be themed off the animal as well, and cannot be unrealistically colored. (ex.: a skunk hero being bright pink isn't allowed)
12. Weapons can't be OP. No laser blasters or whatever.
13. No mythical/extinct creatures.
14. Put 'this?' in Other if you've read this far.

My form, UwU:

Name: Rebbecca Evangelina Rossi
Hero Name: Sweet Bunny
Gender: Female
Age (13-17): 15
Sexuality/Orientation: Biromantic Bisexual
Appearance: Rebbecca is 5'4", with a fair complexion and lithe frame. She has mid-back length, wavy platinum blond hair; her bangs are sideswept/parted to reveal her forehead, and there's one strand on each side of her face that ends at her chin. Her hair is let down sometimes, though most if the time she styles it in a high ponytail. If one looked closely enough, they'd find small 'crinkles' at the corners of her lips and eyes; this indicates that she smiles quite a bit.
Rebbecca wears a light cherub pink tee, along with a soft yellow jacket. Her lower half consists of a pair of acid-washed jeans with light sidecar orange, soft tusk yellow, and slightly dark azalea pink floral patterns; these same floral patterns can be spotted on the pair of white converses she usually wears. On colder days, Rebbecca wears a pastel pink hoodie with rabbit ears attached to the back.
Personality: Rebbecca has a cheerful disposition. She's optimistic and tries to motivate those around her to act, making inspirational or otherwise motivational remarks; she's the kind of person with a positive quote for almost every situation, probably getting most of them from books. "The impossible is possible" is this girl's motto. Rebbecca truly believes that if you try hard enough, you can do anything you want to do; she tends to have high goals and can be seen as ambitious. She's very honest, but doesn't like to be blunt — the only thing she isn't really honest about is how she feels. Rebbecca doesn't like lying to people, claiming it gives her 'a rotten feeling in her gut and makes it feel like she's swallowing bile'; she feels immense guilt when acting on pretenses. As a result of this, she's a poor liar and actress. Rebbecca has an... eccentric way of thinking. She's extremely creative and is constantly bursting at the seams with new ideas, although a good one fourth of those ideas are just things she forgot to write down to remind herself.
Now, onto her flaws. Rebbecca sees the world through a pair of rose colored shades; she's a bit gullible and is easily deceived. While she is by no means dumb or oblivious, she's inclined to trust people due to a fear of being betrayed. As a result of her naïveté combined with her optimism, her optimism can be borderline idealistic. Rebbecca has a hard time opening up about her negative emotions, due to typically bottling them up for the sake of those around her. She's altruistic, but puts others before herself a bit too much. Rebbecca, while book smart, doesn't have the best memory and often has to write things down in order to remember them. She also daydreams from time to time, and can get lost in thoight.
Hero Appearance: Sweet Bunny wears a white suit and matching mask that cling to her skin. Protruding from her hair is a pair of white rabbit ears with light pink insides. The wrists of the suit are lined with white fur, and so are the boots built into it. Her irises become a vivid red color.
Hero Personality: Sweet Bunny's not too different from Rebbecca. She's more focused, and has a more serious demeanor. She's creative, but knows not to blurt her ideas. Sweet Bunny is still a poor liar and actress; despite going under a new alias as SB, she's still easily guilted.
Weapon: Sweet Bunny's weapon is what resembles a pocketwatch. It's gold, with a twelve hour thing on it; it can be used to purify akumas via opening up and then yeeting the bee inside of it, as well as doubling as a kind of 'grappling hook' in a hitch.
Powers: Enhanced agility; can jump higher than most Miraculous holders
Special Power (ie.: Cataclysm, Lucky Charm): Sweet Bunny's Special Power is Poof— basically, she poofs into a cloud of smoke, and can appear at a maximum of nine feet away from where she was last standing. The disadvantage of this power is that it can only be used once, like most Special Powers.
Miraculous Appearance: Rebbecca's Miraculous is a hairclip. The hairclip is a soft pastel pink barrette when uninhabited by her kwami, Dashii. Once activated and inhabited by her kwami, the hairclip becomes a jade green color with five slightly darker pawprints serving as the counter.
Mental Strengths:
- book smart
- creative
Physical Strengths:
- agile
- flexible
Emotional Strengths:
- optimistic
- easy to get along with ig? she doesn't typically have a problem w/ someone, at least on her side
Mental Weaknesses:
- naïve
- optimism can border on idealism
- not street smart; not the best liar/actress
Physical Weaknesses:
- physically weak, particularly in the upper body strength department
- doesn't tend to look around when in a hurry (ie: when, say, running in a forest from someone hunting her down, she's likely to trip on a root once or twice because she didn't notice it)
Emotional Weaknesses (Akuma prey):

- fear of being betrayed
- bottles up her emotions for the sake of those around her
Other: >:) no cheating you heckers

Name: Dashii (Pronounced as Dash-ee)
Pronouns: She/her
Animal: Mini rex rabbit
Personality: The saltiest little thing you'll ever meet, Dashii's a very outspoken and sharp-tongued kwami. She's very blunt with people, and usually expresses her care for others via tough love. She's saltier than the Dead Sea. Also highkey sassy. Fear her.
Appearance: Standard kwami anatomy, with a white body and jade green eyes. Two small rabbit ears with pink insides and a white cottonball tail.
Food: Popcorn, but she prefers it salted.
Other: >:)

Run Down For Who Doesn't Watch ML, by Ghost:
So, the heroes work like this: every hero has a miraculous- a piece of jewelry that when it contains a Kwami (Talked about later) transforms the hero into someone with superpowers. When in hero mode, the person gains a special outfit- always consisting of at least a skin-tight suit and a small mask around their eyes and on the bridge of their nose. The person becomes extra agile and gains a special weapon. They also have something I refer to as a Special Power- some extra ability they can only use once and temporarily. Some examples are Ladybug's Lucky Charm- where she summons a special item to help her. However, after using this ability the hero only has five minutes before they transform back to normal. This is counted down on the hero's Miraculous. When the Kwami enters it it gains five symbols representing the animal (For Cat Noir, for example, it has a paw. The palm, and four digits.) After they transform back the must feed the Kwami its favorite food so it gains back the energy needed to transform. More about the Kwami- Kwamis are magical creatures that help the hero transform. Without it they can't transform. The Kwami has a basic body structure of a large head and small body (Look up Kwami). It has features of the animal it embodies. Now, Akumas and Partridge Bumblebee. Partridge Bumblebee can send out yellow bumblebees- Akumas- to possess people when they gain negative emotions. The possessed person gains special powers based on the nature of what is making them feel negative or what item the Akuma stings; Partridge Bumblebee identifies his victims, using his ability to see through the eyes of all the bees and then sending out this magical glowy yellow bee thing that stings the object. The Akuma can only sting items, not people, and to free said person you must break the stung item- which will release the Akuma- then capture the Akuma and purify it (Can be any way.). When Purified the Akuma becomes a notmal bee and is harmless. The possessed person becomes evil with several goals: Taking over Forumsville, getting revenge on who wronged them, and getting the Miraculouses of whoever shows up to stop them for Partridge Bumblebee. Partridge Bumblebee himself never shows up.

@Fallon:
1: MH and ML are in the same universe, so no. You can have an MH character move to ML or just visit and vice versa, but they can't be in both at the same time.
2: Absolutely not, trust me. I just went all out with Rebbecca's.

Miraculous Holder form:

Name: Alicia Moreau
Hero Name: Tigress
Gender: Female
Age (13-17): 17
Sexuality/Orientation: Straight
Appearance: She is tall, tanned, and toned. She has long dark brown hair and dark brown eyes. She has a mature look to her face and carries herself with manners and elegance. She normally wears jeans with Adidas tennis shoes with a nice or sporty top.
Personality: She is slightly serious, but is friendly and understanding to others. She can get stern and hard, looking almost mean, when something's wrong or she'll just blow up. But to mostly sum it up, she's like a caring big sister to those younger and respectful to those older.
Hero Appearance: Tight white with black striped outfit, black tipped and striped ears and tail (her tail is a belt), claw-gloved hands(or paws XD), her hair turns white and her eyes are like Cat Noir's but gold
Hero Personality: Tigress is a lot more serious than Alicia, and just as fierce as a tiger. She is loyally fierce to her fellow heroes and will do everything, and mostly anything, to stop the villains and protect the city.
Weapon: like Cat Noir's stick but it's bamboo and can shoot darts out
Powers: speed, strength, and stealth of a tiger

Special Power (ie.: Cataclysm, Lucky Charm): Power Roar - earthshaking blast of power to knock others (including fellow heroes so they have to find a good grip) down effortlessly (it does take a lot of energy and her minutes seem to go out faster)
Miraculous Appearance: When not activated, it is a brown leather choker with a single black gem. When activated, the chocker turns black to blend in with her black collar top and the gem turn white with five black ragged claw marks
Mental Strengths:
-supportive
-understanding
Physical Strengths:
-agile
-strong
Emotional Strengths:
-can control her feelings so they don't overcome her
-she can help others with their feelings without breaking down herself
Mental Weaknesses:
-realist (that sometimes tends to cause her to blow up)
-thinks she not strong enough (to help others)
Physical Weaknesses:
-not flexible
-not much of a runner (except when she transforms)
Emotional Weaknesses (Akuma prey):
-getting accused of something she didn't do
-can sometimes get angered easily
Other: OwO what's this?

Kwami form:

Name: Allba
Pronouns: She/Her
Animal: White Tiger
Personality: She is very dramatic and has mood swings constantly. She could be all like "the day was terrible" in a dramatic fashion or she could suddenly change in a second to serious "let's do this". But she is a confident and supportive Kwami. But it's wise not to be in between her food and her.
Appearance: Looks like Plagg except for white body with black stripes and gold eyes
Food: Prosciutto
Other: OwO what's this?

emeraldink96

Name: Katherine 'Kat' Abigail Azarola
Hero Name: Scarlet Claws (your edgy oc returning from the grave)
Gender: Cis female
Age (13-17): 14
Sexuality/Orientation: Pansexual Panromantic
Appearance: Kat's 4'11 in height, a small person filled with all too much anger. Herframe's a bit chubby and muscular. Her complexion is lightly tanned, with freckles on the bridge of her nose and face, a few comparatively lighter ones on her shoulders and collarbone, and a couple on her wrist. Her eyes are a dark hazel with a couple sort of golden flecks in them. Her hair, which is held together in a loose half-updo hairstyle with a barrette in the shape of a black claw, is ginger, and clearly not properly taken care of.It's permanently frizzed, and seems like it would break a few combs if anyone were to attempt to comb through it. Sometimesit's swept to the side with the same barrette, an accessory that she prefers not to take off. (unlessshe's angry at herkwami lol) Her nails are painted yellow, Always.
Kat wears a dark orange, loosely fitting tank top that has a sunflower painted at its center. It's tucked into her shorts on some ends. Her shorts are just above knee length, a light steel blue and look rather worn. On top of that, she wears a thigh length, full-sleeved cardigan - sometimes it's tied to her waist - that, too, is a light salmon and generally, its pockets are filled with snacks. Finally, she wears cream espadrille shoes.
Personality: She has a generally sunny disposition! Kat's the kind of person who charges through all situations with stubborn optimism. Truthfully, she just charges through a lot of situations with only optimism.
Kat has exceptional interpersonal intelligence! Which, when coupled with being an extrovert, makes her a good leader in general - although some of her personality traits do clash with her being a good one, at times.
She's very loud and ready to voice her opinions. Kat's never silent and appears to have an apparent dislike of people who refuse to stand up for themselves - which is why she doesn't ever let herself get silenced in any way or form.
She tries her best to seem as though she lacks any self awareness. Kat takes every moment she can to fluster other people - usually by making some sort of inappropriate comment.
Although she does try to be as realistic as possible, Kat's an expert at dreaming . . . generally dreams that are barely on the brink of being even vaguely realistic. She is incredibly stubborn - as aforementioned, Kat has the general qualities which make her capable of being a good leader - except she feels as though she's always in the right. She's a bit prideful, at times, grumbling that she wasn't exactly wrong, even when things go awry.

She's a bit clingy. Kat is an extreme people-person and finds it hard to concentrate if alone, and with her natural hyperactivity, she can be. A bit much to deal with.
She loves bottling up her negativity- Kat prefers not to let others know when she's upset, and has a tendency to keep it in until she explodes. Her negative emotions have a way of taking the form of anger, which cause her to lash out at others. At times she goes from cheerful to being grumpy and snappy for days - the reasoning for which is bottling up too far - yet at other times she ends up exploding all at once. She's not exactly book smart. Kat has pretty good street smarts but she's too attention-deficit to be able to pay attention in school properly, couple that with her bad memory, making her not excellent at school. (ggg bullet points are Hard to translate into paragraphs)
Hero Appearance: Scarlet dons the Obligatory skintight suit of all mirac holder, barn-red in colour, with a contrasting stark-white mask, with matching dark eyes that are in permanent glare-mode. The gloves and boots of the suit are black, and naturally, she has the Obligatory red panda tail. She says it's really a very annoying design choice.
Hero Personality: A stark contrast to her generally happy demeanor - Scarlet is only here to get the job done, and if she's going to get the job done, she's going to be Very angry about it. Clearly, some of her kwami's personality's leaked into the hero. Scarlet's a very anti-social person and prefers To Work Alone instead of hanging out with the other fursuit donning plebs. She flips her hair as she says this, and then jumps from one roof to another, her tail bouncing off behind her. (She curses her tail, but it's very softly so no one can hear her and comprehend the fact that she's got any troubles.)
Weapon: A staff with a hook shaped edge, it looks Very old, with cracks in the wood and the color fading. Apparently still invincible, though.
Powers: Enhanced physical abilities, especially balance and general agility.
Special Power (ie.: Cataclysm, Lucky Charm): Future Sight: For one minute, Scarlet can predict the next move to be made by the villains in her proximity. (based off of the myth of red pandas being able to predict disasters)
Miraculous Appearance: Her miraculous takes the shape of a barette, with both ends in the shape of a four clawed paw. The barrette's black in colour, with red gem-like shapes encrusted into the mid-section. Upon being inhabited by her kwami, Rinn, the colours switch, the barrette red and the gems black.
Mental Strengths:
-excellent interpersonal intelligence
-street smarts
Physical Strengths:
-nimble
-balanced on her feet
Emotional Strengths:
-very friendly and confident! she's usually the first person to approach others!
-stand her ground. she wouldn't back down from a fight if it's on the basis of difference of opinions.
Mental Weaknesses:
-not very book smart; she has a bad memory.
-attention deficit
Physical Weaknesses:
-relies on her lower body strength too much
-not Very flexible
Emotional Weaknesses (Akuma prey): she's prone to bottling up her emotions; she's too prideful and a bit clingy.
Other: owo???? what's this??

Name: Rinn
Pronouns: she/her
Animal: Red panda
Personality: Rinn establishes herself as grumpy the moment she meets someone. Her standards for her masters are extremely high, and frankly, it's doubtful that anyone actually managed to live up to them. Perhaps it's just her way of showing affection? We'll never know, apparently.
Appearance: An anthropomorphic red panda, with the standard kwami anatomy and generally angry brown eyes. Her ears are always flattened and her tail's always lashing.
Food: chocolate muffins
Other: owo what's This

another to come!

I'm. I'm going throw Viola into this again and actually do her character plot this time yeet (in other words save a cottontail rabbit!)
Also, do prior ML characters retain their memories? Or is this a complete reboot and everyone starts anew?

soft boy who stops the antics of short gremlin. please be kind to him he's doing his best

Name: Angus Hayden Azarola
Hero Name: Cackling Dove (Cackle)
Gender: Cis male (he/him/his)
Age (13-17): 14
Sexuality/Orientation: Homromantic Asexual
Appearance: Angus is 5'7 in height, A Tall Boy next to his tiny sister. His complexion is rather pale and his frame tall and lanky. He's got little to no muscle, with a few light freckles on his nose and some lighter ones on his arms and wrist. His eyes are teal - he wears black glasses with a single cyan stripe on both of its 'legs'(??). His hair, while short and barely ever below ear length, is Very floppy and generally sideswept, and sometimes he attempts to Un-Flop(™) his hair with the help of hair clips, generally indigo in colour, otherwise his hair ends up falling into his eyes. And listen, technically he could cut those Bangs off but like. It Looks Good. Otherwise, it's very properly kept. He paints his nails a dark cyan sometimes.
Angus wears a pale turquoise, full-sleeved t-shirt that hangs loosely over his shoulders - it's sleeves are rolled up and bunched towards his elbows. It has two thin, white diagonal stripes on the left shoulder. On top of that, he wears a pale-goldenrod coloured parka jacket, no matter what the season - generally with his hand stuffed into the pockets as he stares off broodingly into the distance. Sometimes he wears string necklaces. With that, he wears slate gray trousers and slip ons of the same colour. Lastly, he wears a single cloth bracelet that's mainly steel blue with small feather shaped patterns printed on it, and a white clasp to tighten or loosen it.
Personality: Unlike his twin, Angus has a naturally calm demeanor - the kind of person whose presence helps others calm down around him, too. Although naturally calm, he's not able to mask his emotions very well - he tries to, but generally he ends up having to hide his face so no one knows what he's feeling. (conceal don't feel don't let them know ,,,)
Although it doesn't really seem so, Angus is extroverted, too. He's just not very good Communicating properly and prefers to stick to smaller groups of friends that he's known for a long time rather than be the extreme extrovert.
He is extremely overbearing to those he is close to - (which is a chosen few, fortunately for them) the epitomical Mom Friend(™). Due to being not very good at forming friendships easily, Angus makes it 100% sure that he shows those whom he does care about that he does.
Naturally passive. Angus is exactly the kind of person who doesn't know how to stand up for himself and is generally agreeable with others instead of trying to voicing his own opinions. He's the kind of person who whispers what he wants to say into the ear of the next person so they can say it for him. Pun man.
He's . . . bad at articulating. Angus has a hard time putting his feelings into words and just communication overall - he's used to putting the feelings of others before his own, and therefore he's grown to the point where he can't properly express himself. He doesn't have very good linguistic intelligence.
While being overbearing might come off as endearing to some, it does have its limits to the point where it gets annoying.
Angus gives up very easily. He's prone to getting frustrated whenever things don't go his way and ends up throwing an internal fit and walks away from the situation. Although, this particular flaw's bettered a bit since obtaining his miraculous!
He's a bit of a perfectionist- Angus is kind of poor at trying new stuff because he's Scared of failing and/or not immediately succeeding at whatever he does. (me? Projecting??? It's more likely than u think)
Hero Appearance: As Cackle, Angus wears the, again, Obligatory Skintight suit, now complete with the even more obligatory cape. The suit's a light cream in colour, with hints of blue towards his gloves and boots. His cape's the same shade of blue as his suit, this time with hints of cream. He wears a hood instead of a mask, goggles fitted into top. The goggles really don't do anything. They're just sort of there. Clearly design is more important than practicality, anyways.

Hero Personality: Cackle, unlike his unwillingly stoic civilian self, is constantly on the lookout for a chat. He's prone to cracking jokes are situations that really don't require any, but he's really trying his best. Cackle's a time for Angus's suppressed snarky remarks to shine through, such that they aren't only whispered to the person next to him. He's very happy-go-lucky and team oriented, willing to team up with anyone. He's still a very good listener, no matter how much of a chatterbox he might appear to be at first.
Weapon: A cream boomerang with two deep blue vertical stripes on it. It has a feeling of being worn, even though it looks new.
Powers: Enhanced physical ability, particularly agility.
Special Power (ie.: Cataclysm, Lucky Charm): Screech: as literal as it sounds. Cackle lets out an ear-splitting cheeks, temporarily stunning all those around. It affects heroes too, so steer clear whenever it looks as though he's about to drop a screech.
Miraculous Appearance: His miraculous takes the shape of a cloth bracelet, woven all the way up to his forearm. The bracelet is cream in colour, with five feathers meticulously embroidered into each of its bands. The feathers gain an ethereal sort of glow to them when his kwami's in, but that appears to be the only change overall.
Mental Strengths:
-calm boy
-very chill, easy to get along with
Physical Strengths:
-he's a noodle, but he's a flexible noodle.
-very good stamina!
Emotional Strengths:
-he's very agreeable, the kind of person people kind of flock towards
-very loyal! he's extremely caring and makes sure to show he does care.
Mental Weaknesses:
-generally a bit nervous, doesn't have exceptional street smarts
-bit pessimistic
Physical Weaknesses:
-slow (while running, generally)
-his reflexes aren't very good
Emotional Weaknesses (Akuma prey):
-sensitive but doesn't appear so
-very passive
-bad at standing up for himself, generally needs someone else to; perfectionist
Other: OWO! what's this

Name: Croo
Pronouns: they/them
Animal: Laughing dove
Personality: They're very encouraging! Croo makes sure that their master's happy at all times, even if it requires sacrificing their own needs. They try their best to appear as soft and welcoming as possible, easy to approach. They're a bit of a trickster, still, and similar to Angus, they make. a lot of puns.
Appearance: A laughing dove with the standard kwami anatomy, they're mainly cream with shades of blue thrown in around their feathers.
Food: peanut butter cookies. freshly baked Only.

Name: Katrina Nightingale
Hero Name: Monarch
Gender: female
Age (13-17): 14
Sexuality/Orientation: Pansexual
Appearance: long dark red hair (dyed), tan skin, and black eyes. She likes to wear tank tops, and leggings. She wears fingerless gloves.
Personality: extremely social and friendly. She loves to make friends and once you're friends with her she will fight for you and do everything in her power whenever she can to help you. She forgives very easily. She seems like an amazingly functional person, but she tends to beat herself up about her mistakes and she often runs away from her problems. She has Narcolepsy too, due to a childhood trauma and she views it very negatively.
Hero Appearance: her suit is black with white spots on her hands, wrists, feet, and ankles. She wears a cape that looks like Monarch butterfly wings. Her mask is black with red and orange spots above the eyes. Her hair goes into a braid with a red ribbon tying it.
Hero Personality: As Monarch, her emotions become more vivid. She becomes a lot more of a touchy-feely person and she is less likely to run from her problems. She also becomes a bit more grounded to reality. She also suddenly cares a lot more about her hair and gets upset when people threaten it (unlike her civilian form who would be like “whatever”).
Weapon: Long black ribbon that can be used as a whip
Powers: She can jump a lot higher and farther. She is also lighter.
Special Power (ie.: Cataclysm, Lucky Charm): Blessing: Three white butterflies appear and heal three of her allies. They don’t heal Monarch.
Miraculous Appearance: An anklet that looks plain silver with 5 butterfly charms on it. With the kwami inside, the butterflies turn red.
Mental Strengths: She’s sort of smart
Physical Strengths: She’s athletic Emotional Strengths: She’s very social
Mental Weaknesses: Narcolepsy, she has difficulty remembering things a lot because of it. She also has difficulty as school.
Physical Weaknesses: She can’t take a hit
Emotional Weaknesses (Akuma prey): she’s afraid of water deeper than her waist and vomits whenever she sees it. She hates being alone so much that she will smuggle random animals into her house even though her mom hates pets in order to not be alone when she went to sleep.
Other: OWO what’s this?

Name: Kialla
Pronouns: She/her
Animal: Monarch Butterfly
Personality: super confused by humans, constantly nagging Katrina, and is often super condescending.
Appearance: She’s got the regular kwami appearance with black and two tiny Monarch wings. She’s got a white dot on her forehead.
Food: bird seed
Other:

Name: Ashlyn Bellflower
Hero Name: Praying Mantis
Gender: female
Age (13-17): 15
Sexuality/Orientation: Lesbian
Appearance: Short brown hair, frighteningly pale skin, and green eyes. She likes to wear a big green jacket and never takes it off. She wears jeans. She wears an eyepatch over her left eye.
Personality: She’s shy, awkward, and has difficulty with social stuff. She loves being around others and tends to be clingy to her friends, even though she won’t talk to the very often. Her way of comforting others is giving them a cat. She will also often distract others attention away from her by showing them a cat. She always has a cat with her. She’s very sensitive and it’s very easy to make her cry. She also will either vomit or faint at the sight of blood.

Hero Appearance: Her suit is bright green. She has a half skirt that ends at her ankles. The outside is green but the inside is full of all sorts of colors like pink and red and blue. There's no green on the inside. She gains two green antennae and her mask is the same color as her suit.
Hero Personality: As Praying Mantis, she gets a complete personality switch. All of her pent up rage, anger, and grief is released, and as a result, Praying Mantis is a very violent and angry villain. As Praying Mantis, she is able to get over her disgust with blood. Praying Mantis has no real goal, besides just being a huge jerk to the heroes.
Weapon: Khopesh
Powers: Increased agility, stronger, and a sort of sixth sense that makes up for the loss of one of her eyes.
Special Power (ie.: Cataclysm, Lucky Charm): Third eye: For two minutes Praying Mantis can sense almost everything within five feet of her. (Based on how Praying Mantises have three other eyes besides the two very noticeable ones.)

She also has a very rocky relationship with her cousin, Katrina, and they both tend to refuse to acknowledge that the other exists. When they do acknowledge each other though, Krystine usually ends up with a black eye and Katrina's in a bad mood for days.

Important, especially if you're planning a villain!

So Necro and I had a major Brain Hurricane and Partridge is now further fleshed out! PB is a villain, sure, but he's not evil. Partridge started his villain career uneasily, as he wanted to help people instead, but through watching via the bees, he noticed how much people hide their negative emotions, keep them in in order to avoid upsetting anyone. And that's when he found out he could do good.
Partridge akumatizes people not to take miraculouses or take over forumsville, he does it to help them sort out their issues. If he makes their issues so big they consume them, they have no choice but to resolve things and turn out happier in the end.
'Villains' who help him are merely heroes who've realised this and want to help him by ensuring the akumatized get a good chance to use their powers and vent.
However, this is not common knowledge and only known by villains.

Keep going, friend :D! I believe in you!
